BITTEN IN CHEEK BY ANGRY 'COON

New Oxford Man Bitten Badly when he Tried to Pet Tame Raccoon. Harry Raffensperger Taken to Hospital. Another Hospital Case.

While in the act of caressing a pet raccoon at the sale and exchange stables of Joseph Kindig in York on Tuesday, W. H. Felty, of New Oxford, was set upon by the animal and severely bitten in the face. The wound was an ugly one and required surgical attention.

The coon is one of a pair kept at the stables and considered quite tame. At the time of the attack upon Mr. Felty, the animal was being fondled by H. F. Kindig, and thinking he, too, could make friends with the animal, attempted to stroke his hand over its head, when, quick as a flash, it leaped upon him and sank its fangs into his right cheek. It required the combined efforts of two men to loosen the maddened animal.

The wound was cauterized by Dr. Z. C. Myers, to prevent infection.

Amputation Necessary

Harry Raffensperger was taken to the Harrisburg Hospital this morning by Dr. D. L. Merriman, of Arendtsville, and his brother-in-law, L. L. Taylor, of Gettysburg. Mr. Raffensperger recently had one of his thumbs amputated but the disease of the bone seems to be farther back and a further amputation of the bones in the fleshy part of the hand was thought necessary.

Appendicitis Operation

Miss Frances B. Collins, the 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Collins, of McSherrystown, underwent an operation for appendicitis at Dr. Edward Meisenholder's private sanitarium, in York, late Friday evening, which was a success. Miss Collins became suddenly ill on Friday and was immediately taken to the hospital by Dr. A. C. Rice.

MADE HIM STEAL

Declares Man Held Him Up at Point of Revolver.

"I didn't want to take the horse, but a tramp, who had a grudge against the owner, pointed a revolver at me and said he would shoot unless I took the horse, so I stole the horse," said Lewis Lidenbaugh, near Sabillasville, at the Frederick jail, where he had been landed by Sheriff Conard and Deputy Sheriff Jones, on the charge of stealing a horse a week ago from the stables of C. D. Buddeke, near Blue Ridge Summit.

COURT ROOM IS STILL THROGGED

Case now on Trial Takes the People there in Such Large Numbers that even Standing Room is almost at a Premium.

Continuing to attract crowds that take up all the seating room of the Court Room and line the aisles, the case against Paul M. Starner is proceeding along its unpleasant course. The defense is now producing witnesses by the dozen in defense of the man who is charged with a serious crime against Lillian Andrew, a fourteen year old girl.

The Commonwealth's side of the case rested on Tuesday afternoon and the defendant himself took the stand, denying the charge preferred against him. His wife later testified and this morning a number of other witnesses were heard. It is possible that no case since the Eyler murder trial has attracted such interest among those who enjoy following criminal trials.

Leo Darr, the youth who was accused of stealing clothing from Jacob Darr and who was to come up for sentence at this Court, has left for parts unknown. The case against John Spangler Sr., alleged to have received the stolen goods, was accordingly continued to April Court as young Darr was to be the chief witness.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. William A. Bigham, charged with wantonly pointing a gun at Robert M. Caldwell, superintendent of the Gettysburg Water Company, was postponed to April Court, Judge Swope expressing a desire that another judge should preside over the trial owing to his connection with the water company as a member of its board of directors. The grand jury returned a true bill in this case.

A true bill was returned in the case of the Commonwealth vs. Jacob Moore, charged with larceny.

In completing its report the grand jury thanked the Court and the district attorney for facilitating their work and they were then discharged with the thanks of the Court.

It was stated by Judge Warner that written opinions would be handed down later, there not having been time to prepare them since the closing of the license court last week. No other announcement was made concerning the Delta cases except as given above.

VALUABLE GIFT

Mrs. Fringer pays all of the $1300 purchase price but $100, which the congregation will pay. This is a splendid gift which the congregation can utilize as it sees fit, in a number of ways, but for this year at least, the present tenants of the property will likely remain."

EDDIE PLANK TO STAY WITH MACK

Connie Mack Scouts Stories of Eddie Plank's Taking Part in Tri State Matters. Says he is the Marvel of the Age.

According to a dispatch from Lancaster, Eddie Plank, is slated to manage a Tri-State league team. When Connie Mack's attention was called to the rumor he uttered a quick denial.

"There is nothing to it," he declared with emphasis, "because Plank is needed more in Philadelphia than in Lancaster."

"Plank isn't ready for the minors. He pitched better ball last season than he did in all the years he has been with me. I would no more think of letting him go than I would Collins or Baker."

"I think that Plank is the marvel of baseball, and I wouldn't be surprised were he pitching good ball for me five years hence. He isn't thinking of any minor league berth. He knows that he is far from being through with the majors."

SEVEN JURORS

Damage Suit for Injury Received Near New Oxford.

A damage suit by Ivan R. Hartman, against the Western Maryland Railway company, was taken up for trial Tuesday in York.

Mr. Hartman was a brakeman in the employ of the company on Nov. 7, 1912, on a freight train running to Port Covington. It is alleged that while the train was near New Oxford, and running at an alleged excessive rate of speed, Mr. Hartman was jolted off a car and thrown down between two cars and his right leg was crushed between the ankle and knee, so that it had to be amputated.

The cause of the jolt is said to be a quick application of the airbrakes and then a sudden release of them. Mr. Hartman had been employed about a month and claims to have been instructed by the company's employees as to his duties.

The case is being tried by seven jurors. This unusual circumstance is caused by the fact that when the case was taken up for trial the entire panel of jurors except nine were engaged in other cases and each side agreed to strike one of the nine and go to trial with the remaining seven. Mr. Hartman is a resident of York.

ANOTHER BIDDER

Shippensburg Man Claims Dillsburg Brick Plant. Mr. Asper to Contest.

The sale of the Dillsburg brick plant on Saturday is to be contested according to Charles S. Asper, of Aspers, who was announced as the purchaser. Mr. Asper states that after the sale was concluded and the property had been knocked down to him at $5010 John Hosfelt, of Shippensburg, said that he had not finished bidding. The property was again offered for sale, Mr. Hosfelt added $5 to Mr. Asper's bid and the property was given to him at that bid. Mr. Asper did not take part in this second sale. The sale was made by a trustee and Mr. Asper intends to fight the matter out in York County Courts, claiming that when first bidding was closed the sale was over and that he has a just claim at his bid of $5010.

MAY STOP APPOINTMENT

Aim at Brodbeck through His Post-office Choice.

Reports are in circulation in York that an effort is under way on the part of the re-organization wing of the Democratic party to check the appointment of Senator Henry Washers as postmaster of York. The move, it is understood, is not aimed personally at the state senator, whose popularity has caused favorable comment on the choice in many quarters, but at Congressman A. R. Brodbeck, who has recommended the appointment and whose renomination is said to be opposed by various elements within his party. No announcement of confirmation of the appointment has been received. The salary is $3,400 a year.

Miss Natalie Noel, who is ill with diphtheria, is recovering. Her mother, Mrs. Edward Noel, has also been ill for the past few days, but is improving. The mother's illness was probably brought on by the nervous strain in attending to her daughter.

Last Sunday at 3 p. m., a preliminary meeting was held by the young ladies of St. Mary's parish for the purpose of organizing a social club. There were about sixty ladies present and a temporary organization was effected. The rooms formerly used by St. Mary's Social Club, now the Young Men's Club, will be given over to the ladies, and is decided to carpet and furnish these rooms for the new organization.

MADE HER DRAW PLOW

Mrs. Laura B. Porter, of Carlisle, Now Sues for Divorce.

Mrs. Laura B. Porter, of Carlisle, in her action for divorce against William Henry Porter, stated in Cumberland County Court that her husband had worked her at drawing a plow. She said that during her early married life, spent near Plainfield, she was compelled by her husband, who claimed that it was impossible to secure horses, to draw a plow which he held. She had done work for 18 years, and in that time had received only $70 from her husband. Her work included field labor, clearing and grubbing, leading, splitting and cross-cutting logs, some of which were heavy enough for three men.

As joint sexton with her husband at a Plainfield church, she did all the work, her husband getting the money. Several times she nearly starved, and once her husband refused to give her even a head of cabbage when she hungered. Her sister, Mrs. George Shetron, supported her testimony.

BOMB PLANTER AMAZES POLICE

Calmly Tells of Gang Terror- izing New York.

DID ONE KILLING FOR $2

Youth Who Began Life of Crime at Seven Admits Arson and Murder and Reveals Working of "Black Handers."

New York, Jan. 28.—A tale that laid bare the inside workings of the most desperate band of Black Handers that the police have ever coped with was told by a youthful witness before Judge Rosalsky, in the court of general sessions at the trial of a member of the gang.

The witness, who confessed to the police after he was arrested and thought that the gang was not standing by him, confessed on the stand under oath to being implicated in two murders, nearly a score of bomb outrages, abduction of young girls for white slave purposes and other crimes of lesser magnitude.

His recital, as a matter of fact, was a story never equalled in the "blood and thunder" yarns of the penny novellettes and astonished everybody in the court room. Judge Rosalsky sat on the bench in amazement while the witness glibly told of his connection with the activities of the gangsters.

The witness was Alfred Lehman, known to his associates as "Schmittty." He is only twenty-three years of age and is slight of build, with a pale, anaemic face, looking anything but the desperate criminal he confessed himself to be.

Lehman was arrested with two others in Lyndhurst, N. J., in October.
The three were charged with setting off a bomb in the establishment of Klee & Co., in Lyndhurst. Lehman thought that the gang did not intend to aid him, and accordingly the New York police received word that he had a tale that would interest them.

Deputy Police Commissioner Dougherty went over to the jail and heard Lehman's story. Afterward, when Lehman was brought to New York he reiterated his confession.

Lehman was placed on the stand as the principal witness against Angelo Sylvestro, who was charged with placing a bomb in the hallway of the tenement at 170 East Houston street.

Lehman, in addition to telling about his knowledge of and participation in the score of bomb outrages and two murders, also told the court about the burning of two Brooklyn houses for the insurance. He said that the bomb outrages usually brought the men doing the work $50.

One robbery in which a Chinaman was killed, he said, netted him $2, while the two men with him, who, he said, killed the Chinese, got the same amount.

Regarding the bomb set off in the tenement in East Houston street, Lehman said that the leader of the Black Hand gang was interested in a woman and that a man living in the tenement was interested in the same woman.
The gang leader, he said, wanted to get rid of this man.

"On Aug. 31 Sylvestro and a man known as 'Zump' took the bomb handed to us by the gang leader and went to the back yard of the tenement at 170 East Houston street," said Lehman.

"This was next door to the Hippodrome moving picture theater, which was crowded at the time we set about to blow up the place. We didn't care a rap for the danger to the crowd in the theater. We were there to set off the bomb and we were going to do it."
The witness went on to tell how the bomb failed to explode after the fuse had been lighted twice.

He then told of having personally set from sixteen to eighteen bombs, some of which did great damage and others refusing to explode.

Cross-examined by Sylvestro's lawyer, Lehman said that he had begun his career of crime at the age of seven. Two other members of the gang are expected to corroborate his story.

Rocco Pucllo, another member of the gang, also confessed. He said he participated in the setting off of thirty-five bombs in different parts of the city.

"I was paid from $50 to $100 for each bomb that I planted myself," he said, "and I received $25 each time I accompanied other members of the gang who planted bombs."

Rubber Armor For Warships.

London, Jan. 28.—An invention for rubber plating battleships is being experimented with by the British admiralty, according to the Globe, usually well informed on naval matters.
The process consists of sandwiched sheets of rubber between layers of toughened steel, and the inventors declare that a wall of rubber will have the same effect on shells that sandbags have on rifle bullets.

Give Salary to Predecessor's Widow.

VANDERBILT YACHT GOES ON ROCK

Steamship Hurrying to Take Off Passengers and Crew.

New Orleans, Jan. 28.—The steam yacht Warrior, with Mr. and Mrs. F.
W. Vanderbilt, the Duke and Duchess of Manchester and Lord Falconer, of England, aboard, was reported as being aground off the coast of Columbia by a United Fruit Co. wireless message.

The message said that the Warrior went on the rocks at Cape Agutia near Savannah; that she was in a dangerous position and that the United Fruit steamship Frutera was hurrying to the scene to take off the passengers and crew. The Warrior was bound for Colon.

A wrecking tug has been summoned from Kingston, Jamaica, according to the message.

A radiogram received stated that Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt and their guests were taken off the yacht by the United Fruit steamer Frutera and transferred to the steamer Almirante bound for New York via Colon. The crew remained on board.

The yacht is said to be in a fairly safe position, and it is hoped she can be pulled off when the tug arrives from Kingston.

SHOOTS WIFE AND ENDS OWN LIFE

Man Opens Fire When She Re- fuses to Return to Him.

WERE MARRIED TWO YEARS

Both Were Wed Before and Quarrel
Over Children Caused Separation
That Ended in Tragedy.

Allentown, Pa., Jan. 28.—Charles Zellner, a farmer, of East Weissport, Carbon county, shot his wife in the arm at Ruchsville, Lehigh county, and when she fell to the floor as if dead, shot himself in the head, dying almost instantly.

Mrs. Zellner had taken her baby and left her husband because of alleged cruelty, and it was after she had refused his request to return to him that he began shooting. Mrs. Zellner's wound is trivial.

Mrs. Zellner, who is a prepossessing woman of thirty years, married the late Oscar Hell, of Siegersville, who died six years ago. To them were born four sons, who are now among relatives.

Two years ago Zellner was foreman for contractors who constructed a stretch of state highway through Sie-gersville. Zellner at the time was a young widower of thirty-one, with five children. After a brief courtship they were married. He took her to his farm in Carbon county to live, and a baby, now seven months old, was born to them.

Several months ago Mrs. Zellner returned to her old home, declaring she had been compelled to separate from her husband on account of his extreme cruelty. She is unwilling to discuss a life that she declares was a nightmare.

She brought suit for non-support for herself and baby and went to live with Mrs. William Roedler, a cousin, at Ruchsville. Little had been heard of Zellner, and no one had seen him until he appeared in the kitchen of the Roedler home.

To his request that she return to him, she replied that was impossible after the way he had treated her.
Then Zellner drew his revolver and fired at his wife. The bullet inflicted only a flesh wound, but the shock caused her to fall to the floor in a faint, which probably caused him to think he had succeeded in his attempt to kill her. Before any of the members of the Roedler family could intervene he had turned the weapon on himself.

After Mrs. Zellner had left home, Zellner had notices published that he would not be responsible for any debts she might contract, and he said at the time the separation had occurred on account of disagreement over her children. He said she had wanted him to take her children into his home, and he had refused because she did not treat his children right, but like the proverbial stepmother. Aside from that she said she was very dear to him, and that he found life lonely and burdensome without her.

HAITIEN PRESIDENT FLEES

Rebels Advance on Capital and Oreste Takes Refuge on Cruiser.

Port au Prince, Haiti, Jan. 28.— President Michel Oreste, with his wife, took refuge on board the German cruiser Vineta, fighting having broken out in the city.

Detachments of blue jackets were landed from the United States warship Montana, as well as from the Vineta.

The rebels repulsed an attempt made by a force of government troops under the command of M. Pradel, minister of the interior, to land at Saint Marc, forty-four miles to the northwest of the capital.

The government troops, who had proceeded there on the dispatch boat Nord Alexis, at once returned to Port au Prince.

Nairobi, British East Africa, Jan.
28.—An encounter with a lion caused the death here of Fritz Schindler, a member of an American moving picture expedition, engaged in taking pictures of wild animals in their natural surroundings in Africa.

Schindler, with others of the expedition, was attempting to photograph a lion in the jungle when the animal sprang at him.

BIG BANK JOINS SYSTEM

Directors of National City Formally Approved of Application.

New York, Jan. 28.—Directors of the National City bank, the largest financial institution in the United States, voted to join the federal reserve system.

Up until Tuesday there had been considerable doubt as to whether the institution would join the new system.
It was said great difference of opinion existed among officers of the bank as to the policy to be pursued. Fran-A. Vanderlip, president, had figured prominently in the testimony before the Owen-Glass committee in Washington.

The failure of the National City bank to make known its attitude occasioned much speculation in the financial community because of the fact that the institution was almost alone among the larger banks of New York in its failure to make known its decision.

The idea had been suggested that the National City bank might join the proposed movement, having for its object the organization of a group of strong state banks to be chartered and organized by the state government.

Among the bank directors are J. P.
Morgan, Henry C. Frick, James Stillman, William Rockefeller, J. Ogden Armour, Jacob H. Schiff and Frank Vanderlip. Mr. Vanderlip is president.
The institution's paid up capital is $25,000,000 and its deposits are more than $210,000,000.

WILSON OPPOSES FREE CANAL TRIPS

The President Inclines Towards England's Views.

Washington, Jan. 28.—That President Wilson is opposed to the exemption of American coastwise ships from Panama canal tolls was flatly asserted at the capitol by those who know what took place at the conference between the president and the senate foreign relations committee.

Senators who talked with the president said that Mr. Wilson fully explained his position on the tolls question; that his views incline toward the contentions of Great Britain and that he will make public his attitude in the near future.

Several senators expressed surprise that in view of the president's positive attitude he had not urged some action at the extra session of congress.

What the president may recommend was not disclosed in the reports of the White House conference, but it was pointed out that two ways might meet the views of the president. One would be to repeal the exemption provision of the act.

The other would be the passage of the Adamson resolution to suspend for two years the operation of the exemption clause and thus demonstrate whether the canal could be self-sustaining without tolls from American ships.

It is said that the president is not opposed to toll exemptions as such, but that he is strongly of the opinion that they would be a discrimination which would not agree with the provisions of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty.

FITZ IS TURNED DOWN

New York Supreme Court Says He Is Too Old to Fight.

New York, Jan. 28.—The supreme court denied the application of Robert Fitzsimmons, one-time heavyweight ring champion of the world, for an injunction restraining the New York athletic commission from refusing to sanction his participation in boxing exhibitions in New York state.

The commission held that Fitzsimmons, who is fifty-one years of age, is too old again to enter the ring. Justice Seabury ruled that the commission was within its rights in making such an order.

UNUSUAL METHODS

Rev. Daniel Weigle Tells how He Gets
People to Throng His Edifice.

The Rev. Daniel E. Weigle, pastor of Messiah Lutheran Church, Philadelphia, who has taken a moderately successful family church and made its services so popular that latecomers find difficulty in obtaining a seat on Sunday nights, told the Congregational Ministers' Association in Philadelphia how he achieved his success.
Rev. Mr. Weigle is widely known in Gettysburg, having graduated from College in 1906 and from the seminary three years later. The "Public Ledger" tells of his address:

"Mr. Weigle said he had prominent soloists from the city's leading musical organizations sing in Messiah Church every Sunday evening. He advertises their appearance by means of newspaper publicity, billboards, window posters and an extensive correspondence. The young minister supervises his advertising campaign in his automobile and has a stenographer to attend to his voluminous correspondence.

"Acting on the theory that a church should be as attractive as a theatre, Mr. Weigle has brilliantly illuminated the front of his building. The old auditorium has been handsomely renovated, and a system of indirect lighting introduced. Recently the young minister used handsome stands, such as are used by the theatres, to announce his service."

NAMES GOETHALS TO RULE CANAL

President's Order Puts Civil Rule Into Effect April 1

PRESENT BOARD TO GO

Steps Will Soon Be Taken to Reorganize the Government of Canal Zone.

Washington, Jan. 28. — President Wilson signed an executive order putting into operation on April 1 a permanent government for the Panama canal zone and naming Colonel George W. Goethals, chief engineer of the canal commission, as the first civil governor.

In some quarters this action is looked upon as putting an end to consideration by Colonel Goethals of accepting the police commissionership of New York city, a post pressed upon him by Mayor Mitchell.

Secretary of War Garrison made the announcement of Goethals' selection as he carried away the executive order from the White House. He said Colonel Goethals had not been informed officially, but that he would be as soon as his name was sent to the senate.

Garrison said the cabinet meeting was devoted largely to a discussion of the Panama canal government. He added that the question of tolls had not been discussed and that the executive order merely makes provision for the collection of such tolls as are provided by law.

The order puts into effect the Adamson act for the government of the zone. Steps will be taken within the next few days to prepare for the reorganization of the canal government under the provisions of the act.

While no announcement was made, it is expected that the entire plan evolved by the secretary of war regarding the disposition of Colonel Goethals' lieutenants in the building of the canal will be carried out. A commission to have charge of the formal opening of the canal will be appointed, with Richard S. Metcalfe, at present civil commissioner of the zone, as its chairman, and with Colonels Hodges and Gorgas as its other members.

The president's order creates these departments in the canal zone government: Operation and maintenance; purchasing department; supply department; accounting department; health department; and an executive secretary.

Mitchell Still Hopeful.

New York, Jan. 28.—Notwithstanding the action of President Wilson in naming Colonel Goethals as governor of the Panama canal zone, Mayor Mitchell still clings to the hope that Goethals will forfeit the honor of that position to be police commissioner of New York city. "It is still believed that Colonel Goethals will accept the police commissionership," said Mayor Mitchell.

WILL PARADE WITH STATUE

But McDewitt Can't Leave It in Street If Congress Rejects It.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Jan. 28.—Major Sylvester, chief of the Washington police force, has given to John Jay McDewitt a special permit to parade down Pennsylvania avenue on Feb. 2, when McDewitt arrives in the capital with his statue, which he will ask congress to accept for the nation.

The permit does not give McDewitt the right to the capital grounds, because Major Sylvester wants to know what will become of the statue if congress refuses to accept it. He informs the "millionaire for a day" that the statue cannot remain on the street or in any public building over night. "Butch" declares that if congress won't accept his image he will engage a room at a hotel for it and keep it there during his stay in Washington.

... THE LEADERS ...

General Dry Goods Department Store

We have not for some years, advertised a White Goods Sale in JANUARY the time when City stores usually advertise these lines very extensively and in which they offer seemingly great bargains and yet we have always done extra business in this department because of our values - both in made up Underwear and Piece Goods of every character.

The usual city advertisement exploiting these lines is misleading for the reason that comparative values would lead the average reader to believe that there has been a reduction of regular prices special for these sales.

Our purchase of Under Muslins was made months ago when Muslins and Long Cloths were less in price than they have been since. Garments were made for regular stock, not for a Special Sale, priced on the basis of right buying and we are willing to compare values with any store - city or elsewhere.

A large selection of every character in Gows, Skirts, Drawers, Bloomers, Corset covers, Combinations &c.

In Piece Goods...

We anticipated our January wants, also the probable advance in prices of Cotton Goods and made our contracts months ago to make this saving - which is now yours.

Special Values in Long Cloths, Cambrics, Lingerie Crepes, Check Cambrics & Lawns, Sheetings, Pillow Tubing & Muslins, Sheets, Pillow Cases &c.

Counterpanes from $1.00 to $4.00 (from 25 cents to $1.00 under present market)

Yard Wide Bleached Muslins - at 8-9-10 cts. worth from 10 to 12 1-2 cts.

Shirtings in Madras and Seersuckers, Piques, Linares, Percales and Devonshire Cloths Galateas and Dress Gingham.

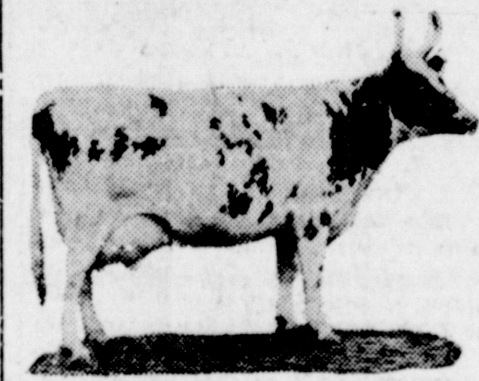

And many other New Goods coming in daily.

THE BEGINNING OF GOOD BUTTER

More and more I am coming to think that the beginning of good butter lies in the care with which the milk is drawn and how it is treated afterward in the pails, cans and other tin utensils, says E. L. Vincent in the American Cultivator.

It is not long ago that a neighbor told me that a farmer of our neighborhood after milking his cows took the mess to the can he was to send to the creamery and poured it right out without straining at all! I was greatly surprised that in our day and age of the world, with all our papers advocating cleanliness and with all the lecturers going up and down the land showing how important it is that we should be extremely careful how we handle milk if we are to have good butter, that any one should be so absolutely indifferent to the most common points of decency.

I know we cannot strain all impure matter out of milk. I know that at best the strainer is a crutch, but it does help, and no man who wishes to make good butter or to have the milk he sends away to others, either to be used as whole milk or to be turned into butter at the creamery, clean, can afford to forget these fundamental principles. May I name them over as briefly as I can?

As a breed the Ayrshire cow is almost as large as the Holstein, smoother in contour and quite as strong and rugged as any breed of cattle. They are exceptionally good grazers and respond well to good care in cold climates. There is a smaller number of high record cows in the Ayrshire breed than in some other dairy breeds, but it is quite a noticeable fact that Ayrshire herds average high in production. This demonstrates great uniformity in the yielding powers as well as in color marking, individuality, size and breed type. Kinford Belle III, here pictured, was grand champion Ayrshire at the national dairy show.

Clean food, the very bottom stone in the dairy wall.

Clean stables, a point of the highest value in buttermaking.

Clean cows, calling for the regular use of brush and comb.

Clean men, in hands, in garments, in every habit.

Clean milk pails. These can only be had by carefully rinsing them at once after milking with cold water, following with a thorough washing with scalding hot water and a good clean scrubbing cloth or brush, and then rinsed again with cold water and given a long sun bath.

Clean pans, secured in much the same way as the clean pails are.

Clean can covers. Many think they have done their duty when they have washed the cans proper and so forget the covers. Think that milk slops up against the cover on the way to its destination and put no less care on the cover than you do on the rest of the can.

These, as it seems to me, are bed-rock points in the making of first class butter.

Fresh Meat Circle.

For several years we have maintained a fresh meat circle rather on the co-operative plan that is very successful, writes G. O. Brown of Ohio in the National Stockman. As soon as cool weather arrives the plan becomes operative. Usually eight men, heads of families, comprise the company, and one of the men is designated as butcher and paid $1 for each animal killed, and other members aid in turn. In killing a hog or a beef the carcass is cut as equally as possible into eight parts, and each man takes his turn in the taking of different sections until at the end of the season each family has consumed a whole carcass, all used fresh. In butchering a hog the owner keeps the offal and renders the lard and on a beef does likewise and sells the hide. All differences in weight are settled at a fixed price per pound, and the plan seems to be very satisfactory.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed with Sulphur It Darkens so Naturally Nobody can Tell

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's treatment, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage. Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" for about 50 cents a bottle. It is very popular because anybody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive; besides, prevents dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair.

Gentle Eyed Seal. Seals are still numerous and are disliked by Labrador fishermen. Dr. Grenfell says that he has known a seal to haunt a net so persistently that to get any fish the owner had to watch all the while at one end of it, and even then the seal would almost snap off the fisherman's hand as he raced to be first to disentangle the salmon.
